Obnoxious Officer Beaten to Death By a Mob.

St. Louis, Mo., April 9 .- Ever ince the railroad employes in East Louis ceased work in support of k Knights of Labor on the Gould outhwestern system rumors of riots nd blood shed have daily gained irculation, but until to-day no serius conflict has occurred between hem and the deputy sheriffs and Inited States marshals stationed in ne various yards to protect the comanies' employes and property The menty sheriff had sworn in numerous eputies and upon several occasions ad brought to that city bodies of med men to suppress an anticipated mak upon railroad yards and their of their number was killed.

About noon to-day, however, a Lousville and Nashville freight train ess slowly passing, guarded by aght deputy sheriffs armed with gowds of men, women and children adcongregated on Broadway, where the Louisville and Nashville tracks less. coss the street, and also upon Broad-

The deputies immediately leveled their rifles and fired two volleys with htal effect, four men being kalled and one woman mortally wounded. The greatest excitement immediately The crowd fled in every direction. When the deputies realized how learful was the result of their fire, they sought means of escape by rushing for the bridge with a view of fleeing the city. At the approach, and just at the bridge tower, on the east side, they were met by Mayor loyce, City Clerk Canty and a third man who seized the deputies' guns and endeavored to turn them back.

STILL ANOTHER MAN KILLED.

One of the deputies, in his terror. bred upon the trio, killing a man named E. C. Thompson, who stood between Joyce and Canty. Some thots were fired by the remaining deputies at the approaching strikers and all started over the bridge.

The scene on the bridge was one of wildest confusion and excitement. Coal teams, loaded, and other teams with wagons were galloping westward and shouting to all pedestrians and teamsters to turn back. Women and men on foot were running toward the city and waving back all they met, while immediately behind came the deputies, pursued by the vanquard of the crowd from East St. Louis. One of the frightened guards threw his gun into the river, while another hid his weapon in a wagon that was in full retreat.

THE DEPUTIES SURRENDER IN ST.

On arriving in this city the deputies went at once to the Chestnut street police station where, after stating the facts of the shooting, they surrendered to the sergeant in charge and were taken to the Four Courts where they were placed in custody. Please keep me posted of important

About half an hour after the shoot- events until the arrival of the militia ing an excited and angry mob gathered in the square between the city had and the police station. A man named Dwyer, a gambler and in no to escape with bose who fled to this way connected with the strike, became the center of a crowd who loudly cheered incendiary statements which he uttered. He urged the men to "hang and kill," and was in the midst of an appeal to the mob to tollow him to the Ohio and Mississippi depot to "hunt for deputy sheriffs," when John W. Haves, a member of the general executive committee of the Knights of Labor, Martin O'Neil and Knight of Labor Brown arrived on the scene from

A DISPATCH TO THE GOVERNOR.

At noon to-day Sheriff Roprequet sent the tollowing dispatch to the governor: "A mob of 200 men invested the entrance of the Louisville and Nashville vards and stopped the employes of the road. When commanded by me and my deputies to disperse they hooted and derided me and my posse and applied epithets to me and refused to disperse in the presence of the city police officers With the force at my disposal I can not preserve the peace and afford protection to the railroad companies. Under the circumstances I intend to hereby invoke the aid of the state the thumb. for militia to aid me in upholding the law and protecting property,"

During the shooting Sheriff Roprequet sent the following dispatch: R. J. Oglesby, Springfield, Ill:

"Mob concentrating with rifles and guns to storm the Louisville and Nashville freight house. One man killed on the bridge. Danger im-ROPIEQUET."

MILITIA ORDERED TO THE TUNNEL.

To this the governor replied: "Your telegram received at 2 p. m. A DEPUTY BEATEN TO DEATH. Some of the deputies who failed city were chased by the crowd into he freight warehouses and offices of the Louisville and Nashville. The warehouse was surrounded by an immence crowd, who hooted and velled and neged the men to attack the stronghold and drive out the deputies. Men went among the crowd urging others to procure arms and shoot all the departes they could find. Some of the deputies, finding their opportunity, simped out and made their escape among the freight cars unobserved. A Louisville and Nashville train backed down beside the freight house and took away the others to a place of safety. Two were chased under the bridge. One of them was caught in front of Toneys house, on the levee, and was beaten to death by the mob. Another was reported to have been shot as he was escaping under the approach to the bridge. The other deputies escaped

Dr. Richmond Found.

Chicago, April 7 .- Dr. S. A. Richmond, a wealthy citizen of St. Joseph, whose sudden and mysterious disappearance from his home Jan. 10 created a sensation, was discovered yesterday at the Leland hotel in this city under an assumed name and evidently insane. He had been at the hotel since March 30, but had managed not to attract special attention until yesterday, when he announced his intention of causing himself to be incarcerated in Kankakee asylum. The doctor is much emaciated, and where he spent the time between the date of his disappearance and March 30 is not known. It was supposed that and costs. commit suicide, but the insurance companies refused to take that view of the case. The policies on Dr. Richmond's lile aggregate $50,000. Mrs. Richmond will probably leave St Joseph to-day to take charge of her husband.
